Solidarity to Solutions Week

The It Takes Roots Solidarity to Solutions (Sol2Sol) Week will highlight frontline communities' solutions that address the interlinked crises of climate, economic, and racial justice.

Through cross-sector, solutionary strategy exchange, local solutions tours, creative actions, and democratic popular assembly, we will provide direction on bold and transformative pathways for change and shift the narrative around false top-down market-driven solutions.

We will illustrate how the most regenerative solutions to the climate crisis require not only decarbonization, but also strategies to decolonize, detoxify, demilitarize, de-gentrify and democratize our economies and our communities.
